"BIG STICK" HITS WILSON POLICIES

T. R. Makes Bitter Attack on "Shadow Dance of Words."

(By the International News Service.)
New York, Nov. 3.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt and 1,500 of his admirers had a hot time at Cooper Union tonight slamming Woodrow Wilson. The Colonel concentrated everything he had said before about the President during the campaign into this final speech, and then said some new things.

"Hit 'em again, Teddy," shouted the crowd at his hardest knocks, and every time the Colonel grinned, and did "hit 'em again."

Very little was said about Mr. Hughes. John W. Wamaker, who presided, spoke of him more times in his talk of twenty minutes than the Colonel did in his talk of more than an hour. From appearance, the Colonel might have been the candidate.

Lincoln in Evidence.
One thing is certain, the Republicans and Democrats alike are unanimous for Abraham Lincoln. The night before President Wilson was likened to his face to Abraham Lincoln, and he did not deny it. Attention was called to the fact, over the President's head, commemorating Lincoln's famous Cooper Union speech.

Tonight, the managers of the Roosevelt meeting did the thing much better. They had the hall profusely decorated with bunting, which the Tammany Hall committee did not do for Wilson. They had a portrait of Lincoln behind the speakers' stand, and two huge plaster busts of Lincoln on either side. They brought out for the occasion the old reading desk and the chair which Lincoln used when he made his great speech.

The crowd was quite different in appearance from the Wilson meeting of the night before. There were many in evening clothes, and one-fifth at least of the audience was women, including some of the Roosevelt family. On the stage were many Old Guard Republicans and George W. Perkins to represent the returned Progressives. There was not a heckler in the crowd.

When Col. Roosevelt entered the crowd cheered him for seven minutes, four more than the crowd cheered Wilson the night before. Cries of "We want Teddy" made the Colonel smile. The cheers were taken up outside the hall by thousands in the street.

Sees Period of Peril.
Mr. Wamaker spoke for the business interests of the country in introducing the Colonel.

"I believe, and many business men believe," he said, "that a period of peril and distress threatens this nation on account of the Wilson policies. I believe the Republican party, which I believe under God, saved this nation fifty years ago, will have to save it now from being plunged into a century of indebtedness."

Col. Roosevelt was cheered for another minute when he began to speak. His scornful references to Mr. Wilson as another Buchanan made the crowd yell with delight, and when he said the President resembled a horse in the middle of a stream that "moved feebly forward and feebly backward and occasionally lies down," they cheered for a minute and cried "hit him again."

Several new phrases of the Colonel's attacking the President delighted the crowd. "Shadow dance of words," "sordid untruths," "veil of rhetorical phrases," made them cheer again and again.

Excoriation of the President for an saying "You cannot work on an empty stomach," roused the greatest applause in his address. There was another demonstration at his pictures of American troops massacred by Mexicans, the crowd on the floor and the people on the stage rising in spontaneous salute to him, and cheering him for a minute.

KIMONO PARTIES CITED.
Husband Alleges Wife Received Callers En Disshabille.

New York, Nov. 3.—Entertaining divers strange men in the "wee small hours" while she was clad in a kimono, is one of the charges preferred against Mrs. Mary E. Babcock in a suit for absolute divorce filed today by her husband, Dr. I. E. Babcock, a dentist.

Private detectives accumulated much of the evidence cited by the plaintiff, but he and his father and mother swear in affidavits filed with the suit that they repeatedly surprised Mrs. Babcock on Beverly road, Flatbush, Mrs. Babcock denies the charges.

FLIES 107 MILES HOUR.
New York, Nov. 3.—Victor Carlstrom, aviator, completed his Chicago-New York flight at 8:55 a. m. today, when he landed in safety on Governor's Island.

Carlstrom was forced to make two stops during his journey. His original plan was to make the trip between sunrise and sunset of one day. But in this he failed because a loose nut forced him to descend at Erie, Pa., yesterday afternoon. Darkness came on as he reached Hammondsport, N. Y., last night, and he remained overnight at the hotel there, his aerial voyage shortly after daybreak.

Carlstrom's unofficial average flying time was close to 107 miles an hour.

"GIRL IN EVERY PORT" WINS DIVORCE FOR SAILOR'S WIFE

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 3.—Capt. Elmer L. Anderson, master of a bay schooner, carries out the traditional reference to one of his calling by having a "girl in every port" according to his wife's charges in her divorce suit. The latter, Mrs. Sadie Anderson, was given an absolute divorce in the Circuit Court today by Judge Dawkins.

It was a bundle of letters that Mrs. Anderson accidentally ran across that broke up the sea captain's home. And they were love letters, not from one girl, she claims, but from several girls. They were full of love sentiments, she claimed, and some of them contained such endearing terms as "Dearest Friend," "Sweetheart," "Wonderful Child," while others ended with "M."

TRIESTE IN PERIL

Italians Penetrate to Within Twelve Miles of Seaport.

(By the International News Service.)
London, Nov. 3.—Following up his new offensive on the Carso plateau, south of Gorizia, Gen. Cadorna last night and today made fresh advances. The Italians are reported tonight to have penetrated to within about twelve miles of Trieste, the objective of their smashing blows.

Three thousand more prisoners have been added to nearly 5,000 taken yesterday. A Rome dispatch says yesterday's operations alone, according to Italian estimates, cost the Austrians 15,000 in casualties and captured. The Twenty-first Austrian regiment and several battalions are said to have been wiped out.

Hard fighting has taken place on and near the Adriatic coast below Monfalcone. An unconfirmed report has reached Rome that Duino, on the Venice-Trieste Railroad line, has been occupied.

This seems likely, a dispatch from Rome tonight stating that the Agnavizza coast has been invested.

The Austrian war office tonight admits the loss of Lovjica, on the northern part of the plateau. To the south, it is asserted, the Austrians held their positions. The capture of 1,000 Italians is reported.

Dirigibles and aeroplanes have been active in the course of the renewed offensive. An Italian dirigible on Wednesday night bombed fortifications and warships in Selenio Bay, island of Braza, in the Adriatic.

Austrian planes on the same night raided points behind the Italian lines on the Carso.

SLEUTHS SMASH DOOR, BREAK UP DOPE PARTY

Two Pretty Girls Participants in Alleged Sniffing Bee.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—A "heroine party" in which two pretty young girls were alleged participants, was interrupted today when city detectives and internal revenue officers smashed down the door of a room on the third floor of 1008 Mount Vernon street and confiscated large quantities of tablets and powder, alleged to be heroin and cocaine. Thomas Fredericks, alias "Patterson Tom," alleged to be the proprietor of the place, was arrested on the accusation of being a dealer in narcotic drugs in violation of the Harrison act. He was held in $800 bail by United States Commissioner Long.

Ralph Oyster, special internal revenue agent, and City Detectives Hart and Walsh went through the house in search of Fredericks. They heard noises on the third floor and listened at the door of a rear room. From within the room came the unmistakable sound of persons sniffing heroin.

Then the detectives broke into the room. They found the girls, who were sitting on the floor, and a large quantity of tablets and powder.

ODDS ON HUGHES 10 TO 6 1/2.
Even Money on Wilson Offered in Some New York Quarters.

New York, Nov. 3.—Betting odds in Wall Street today were 10 to 7 and 10 to 6 1/2 on Hughes.

It is estimated that about $50,000 was wagered yesterday on this basis. There was one bet of $3,000 to $1,000 that Hughes will carry New York State. Even money is offered that Hughes will get 90,000 plurality in this State. There were no takers for a $25,000 wager that Wilson will carry Ohio.

Even money was offered in some quarters on Wilson's re-election.

SCORE PAINTED SCHOOL GIRLS.

Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—Schoolgirls who use rouge and powder are ill-bred. Furthermore, cheating nature's bloom by way of the powder puff and the make-up box denotes a low standard of character.

This was the consensus of opinion of the Teachers' Club, members of which tonight met in the Widener Branch Free Library, Broad street and Girard avenue, and discussed the question. Although the use of cosmetics was denounced thoroughly, no practical way to force schoolgirls to cease the habit was offered.

BLIND GIRL HELPS SOCIALISTS.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Miss Helen Keller is the largest single contributor to the Socialist campaign fund this year. It was announced here today. The announcement was accompanied by a statement from her.

"I believe only through the Socialist party can the principles of freedom—political, social and economic—be realized," it says.

SOCIETY OF NATIONS INDORSED.

Paris, Nov. 3.—A society of nations with the guiding principle to settle differences by law instead of force is urged in a resolution adopted by the Congress of the League of Rights of Man, in session here. It advocates the elimination from treaties of the "terms of war," and the annulment of annexations imposed by force, such as that of Alsace-Lorraine.

"AMERICA FIRST" HUGHES' SLOGAN

G. O. P. Chief Addresses Three Brooklyn Audiences.

(By the International News Service.)
New York, Nov. 3.—Charles Evans Hughes told three big audiences in Brooklyn tonight that he stood for "America supreme and sole" and declared the people of the United States should take a lesson in fellowship and co-operation from Europe. Without such a lesson, he said, the United States cannot hope to cope commercially with Europe after the war.

New York gave the Republican nominee a rousing welcome home tonight. He was met at the station by a crowd estimated at 25,000 persons. In the Brownsville section of Brooklyn, it required all the energy of fifty policemen to hold thousands in check.

It was perhaps the most strenuous day of the whole campaign for Mr. Hughes. He put in sixteen hours of hard campaigning, making nine speeches in his dash down the Hudson from Albany.

"In the first place," said Mr. Hughes tonight, "if I am elected President of the United States we shall have an administration with exclusively American policies, without any defection to serve any other interest whatever. Supreme must be America in the thoughts of the American people and the supreme will be America's interest in an administration in my charge."

Pointing to the example of the people of European nations now at war in working together for the common benefit, Mr. Hughes said: "We do not want the European kind of a discipline, but we must have this country. And we have got to feel in this country that it is a common prosperity or none at all, that the interests of labor and capital are not diverse, but are one."

DRIVE TEUTONS ACROSS TRANSYLVANIAN BORDER

Rumanians Also Capture Mount Sirul and Taurumio.

(By the International News Service.)
Bucharest, via Paris, Nov. 3.—The Rumanians have driven the Austro-Germans across the frontier of Transylvania in the region of Tabel Butzi, according to an official statement issued today by the war office.

In the Buzeu Valley they have captured Mount Sirul and Taurumio, while in the Valley of the Jiu they have driven the invaders farther back, capturing four towns.

"On the Western Moldavian front there is no change. We delivered an attack in the Buzeu Valley, occupying Mount Sirul and Taurumio. At Tabel Butzi we advanced beyond the frontier."

"At Predeal the situation is unchanged. In the Brapova Valley the enemy delivered a violent attack against our left wing. We are holding all our positions. In the region of Dragoslavele there were patrol skirmishes. Here the artillery fire is slackening."

"East of the Alt (Aluta) the battle is continuing violently. All along the Jiu front our pursuit of the enemy is continuing. We have captured four more cannons and much war material."

ATTEMPTED THEFTS AT TREASURY DISCOVERED

Employee of Redemption Division Alleged to Have Worked Scheme.

An attempted systematic system of thefts in the Redemption Division of the Treasury, covering a period of several years, has been exposed by Edward W. Wilson, superintendent of the Redemption Division of the Treasury Department. An employee is said to have confessed and has been discharged.

Superintendent Wilson refused to make a statement last night in regard to the attempted theft, but admitted that an attempt had been made.

Under a ruling of the Treasury Department, a note three-fifths of its original value is redeemed at the par value and a new note issued.

It is said that in the present case the discharged clerk cut out or tore off small pieces of many notes, pasted them together, and put them in the original packages, at the same time abstracting therefrom the notes three-fifths in length, redeemable at par, thus making the number of notes in the original package correct.

The National Bank Note Redemption Division, where the alleged theft was attempted, employs about 400 women clerks, who handle on an average of $1,000,000 worth of redeemed money a day.

HUNTERS FIND MURDER VICTIM.

Jamesville, Wis., Nov. 3.—Mystery surrounds the murder of a young man whose body, with bullet holes in both arms, breast, stomach and forehead, was found on the banks of the Rock River, near here, today, by hunters.

The man, a stranger, was well dressed, and evidently a foreigner. In his pocket was found a roll of $200, but no papers.

Police followed a trail to a shack a few hundred feet away, and there found evidences of a desperate struggle.

ARRESTED IN BOMB PLOT.

New York, Nov. 3.—Six men said by the police to be former subway guards were arrested today in connection with the 120th street Bronx subway explosion October 24.

60,000 NEGROES IN VOTE FRAUDS

Department of Justice Charges Wholesale Law Violations.

A statement issued yesterday afternoon by the Department of Justice says:

"Information received by the Department of Justice shows that within the last three months approximately 60,000 negroes have been transported from certain Southern States to Northern and Western States, primarily to Middle Western States, particularly Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. Investigation has developed the fact that a number of these negroes have registered in violation of the laws of the States to which they have gone and have expressed the intention of voting in these States."

"Some information has been developed indicating plans in different States to violate the Federal statutes with reference to election methods, such as registration of non-naturalized citizens; false registration by padding the registration lists with fictitious names with the intention of having persons falsely represent themselves to be the persons whose names appear on the list and vote under these names; what are commonly known as 'repeaters'; false counts and returns by election boards; entering on the poll books as having voted fictitious person or persons; and other methods of intimidation by employers of their employees through threats which tend to coerce the will of the employees."

"Facts in the possession of the Department show in one city the padding of registration lists with fictitious names to an extent which, in the light of accurate information already obtained, indicates that the number of such names probably reaches into the thousands."

"Part of the statement quotes the penal code to prove that it is a conspiracy to 'intimidate any citizen in the free exercise or enjoyment of any rights or privilege secured to him by the Constitution and laws of the United States.'"

U-BOAT IN U. S. WATERS LOOKED FOR BY KOENIG

Deutschland Commander Says Visit Is Likely at Any Time.

By DAMON RUNYON.
(International News Service.)

New London, Conn., Nov. 3.—"I certainly would not be surprised if a U-boat made its appearance in these waters. In fact, I expect it."

This was the comment made by Capt. Paul Koenig, master of the German underwater packet, the Deutschland, today on the report that a submarine war boat had been seen in Nantucket.

"By these waters," the little captain of the merchantman meant the general vicinity of American shores.

"I was not told to look for a convoy when we left Bremen," he said, "but you know the sole purpose of the visit of the U-53 to American waters not long ago was to act as a convoy for the Bremen, so I would not be surprised if another U-boat arrived now."

He said the U-53, which is supposed to be the underwater fighter now cruising off Nantucket, is a sister ship of the U-53, which visited Newport.

It was reported that Capt. Koenig has asked for permission for the Deutschland to pass through the Cape Cod Canal, and that he intended to leave here for Boston next Wednesday to discharge certain portions of his cargo assigned to Boston people, but Koenig today absolutely denied this report.

"There is a difference between the gown of beauty and that which is a lure to sin," Bishop Mitchell said. "Abbreviated skirts, low necks, transparent filmy frocks, be beautiful from the artistic standpoint, but they are abhorrent to the man of God, who sees that the designers who devised such styles are patently playing to human passion."

CLINCH VICTORY

French Advance to Vaux Village and Hold Heights.

By C. F. BERTELLI.
(International News Service.)

Paris, Nov. 3.—Gen. Nivelle crowned the greatest positive French victory of the war yesterday evening when he occupied Fort Vaux, the last of the Verdun strongholds occupied by the Germans. That it was a bloodless triumph is due not to German generosity in yielding an undesired position, but to the awful gunfire to which the famous ridge was subjected.

The French today enlarged their successes by a series of brilliant attacks which, the midnight communique announced, has enabled them to advance as far as Vaux village, besides winning a foothold on the hill which dominates the village. The Germans made no effort to counter-attack.

The day was quiet on the Somme following the French successes of earlier in the week in the sector of Les Boeufs and Sully-Sailles.

The occupation of Fort Vaux marks the first great tactical triumph won in the whole war without the loss of life. And the explanation thereof is France's development in gun power.

Technically, Fort Vaux was rendered untenable when a fortnight ago Gen. Mangin seized Douaumont and drove a wedge between that fort and the village of Vaux. The result was to expose Vaux fort to a converging fire, but the fort was in precisely the same position as during last May and June, yet at that time Maj. Paynal held up the crown prince's advance for a month and inflicted terrible slaughter on the German assaults before capitulating. The capture of Fort Vaux alone cost the Germans 30,000 permanent casualties.
